

Acknowledgments

Acknowledgments are a crucial part of any creative project, and I am deeply grateful for the support and contributions that have made this book possible. First and foremost, I want to thank everyone who has taken the time to read Bridget and Rhys's story. These characters have been a significant part of my life for months, and now that their journey is shared with the world, I truly hope they resonate with you in the same way they have with me. Their development and the evolution of their relationship have been a personal journey for me, and seeing it come to life through your eyes is a deeply fulfilling experience. Your enthusiasm for this story means more than words can express, and I am thrilled to share it with you.

A heartfelt thank you goes to my incredible team of readers, whose feedback has been invaluable in shaping the final product. To my alpha and beta readers—Brittney, Brittany (with an 'a'), Yaneli, Sarah, Rebecca, Aishah, and Allisyn—your constructive insights helped refine the story and bring out its best elements. Each of you provided such thoughtful and candid suggestions that truly elevated the narrative, and I'm thankful for your dedication to making this book the best it could be. Your attention to detail and willingness to be honest with me about your thoughts have made a significant impact on the quality of the final product. It's rare to find such a supportive and reliable group of readers, and I feel fortunate to have had you all by my side throughout this process.

I would also like to extend my deepest gratitude to Amber, my personal assistant, for keeping me grounded through this entire journey. Amber's unwavering support has been a constant source of comfort and assistance. From providing second opinions to helping me maintain focus during the most challenging moments, I truly don't know what I would have done without her. Amber, your patience, guidance, and commitment to my success have been invaluable, and I am forever grateful for everything you've done to keep me sane during this wild ride. It's a privilege to work with someone as dedicated and passionate as you, and I can't thank you enough for being there when I needed you most.

My thanks also go to my editor, Amy Briggs, and my proofreader, Krista Burdine. Your expertise and skill were crucial in polishing the story and ensuring that the final draft was smooth and error-free. I truly appreciate the flexibility and professionalism you both exhibited while working on tight deadlines and accommodating my sometimes unpredictable schedule. Amy, your keen eye for detail, and Krista, your thorough review of every word, helped make this book what it is today. You are both rockstars in your own right, and I'm incredibly lucky to have had you working alongside me. Your hard work and dedication have made this book shine.

I want to thank Quirah at Temptation Creations for designing the stunning cover that perfectly captures the essence of the story. The visual impact of the cover is the first impression readers get of the book, and I couldn't be happier with how it turned out. Additionally, I am deeply grateful to the teams at Give Me Books and Wildfire Marketing for ensuring that the release day was an absolute success. Your support and efforts in promoting the book have made the entire experience seamless and exciting. It's thanks to your hard work that the release of this book has been a dream come true.

Finally, I want to express my appreciation to everyone who has supported me along the way, whether through their words of encouragement, their understanding when deadlines were tight, or their patience as I navigated the ups and downs of the writing process. Writing this book has been an adventure, and having such an amazing group of people around me made it all the more rewarding. Thank you to my family, my friends, and every reader who has taken the time to get to know Bridget and Rhys. Your support and enthusiasm mean the world to me, and I can't wait for you to join me on my next journey. Without you, none of this would have been possible, and for that, I am eternally grateful.
